sure how the accident occurred, and that his thumb penetrated his eye is the only manner in which he thinks it could have occurred.

Police Enforce Traffic Ordinance

Henry Dellinger, aged about 38 years, residing on Yeoman street and employed as night miller at the Washington Milling Company's plant, suffered the loss of his left eye in a most unusual manner about 6:30 Friday evening, while on the small passenger elevator which extends from the basement to the top of the big mill.

Dellinger, who is a son of L. Dellinger, of Bloomingburg, had started upward on the elevator, and wishing to stop the lift suddenly seized the rope which controls it, and gave a sudden jerk, with the result that his thumb penetrated the eye with great force, crushing the eyeball and completely destroying the sight.

Mr. Dellinger was transferred to the Fayette hospital where the injured eye was removed. He suffered the most excruciating pain from the injury, and is still confined to the hospital for treatment.

He has been with the Washington Milling company a few days only, and previous to his work here was employed near Bainbridge.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the children—the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties at night.

Governor Vetoes The Kesler Bill Approves The License Bill

Special to Herald.

Columbus, O., May 3.—Governor James M. Cox is still busily engaged in looking through the stack of legislative enactments which were turned over to him by the General Assembly.

GOVERNOR COX.

Busy Considering Big Batch of Legislative Enactment

Today he vetoed the Kesler bill which sought to restore to citizenship the disfranchised Adams county voters convicted and sentenced by Judge A. Z. Blair.

The governor signed the Liquor License bill and also signed the new Agricultural Commission bill. Both of these last mentioned measures are now laws.

In Social Circles

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffis entertained with a seven o'clock "dinner dance" Friday evening at the Cherry hotel in honor of their son, John Crayton Griffis, and his thirteenth birthday.

The "dinner dance" was a brilliant innovation in the young host's very youthful set, and to say that it met with unqualified approval expresses it mildly. Without doubt it was the most elaborate and beautiful affair in which the young guests have as yet participated and its overflowing pleasure will be indelibly stamped in the memory as well as the fact of the first dinner dance.

There were fourteen guests, seven girls looking like May blossoms in their white frocks and dainty hued ribbons, and seven boys, the young host doing the honors beautifully and with much gallantry. They were seated at three small tables, exquisitely appointed in May day decorations, in the hotel parlors. A lovely little French basket, filled with pink and white snap dragons and fern, graced the center of each table and the place cards were artistic novelties. Each girl was presented with a beautiful Colonial bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and asparagus fern, and each boy wore a single pink rose bud as a boutonniere.

The pink and white color scheme was prettily introduced in the four courses of delicious viands served and it was altogether as pretty a miniature dinner party as skill and taste could devise.

Horstman played brilliantly during the dinner and afterwards for the dance. Charades and other amusements also contributed to the evening's delights.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Griffis in the hospitalities were Mrs. J. F. Dennis and Mrs. James Ford.

Seated at the table were Mary Dahl, Virginia Campbell, Doris Willis, Aileen Hess, Ruth Grafton Macdonald, Whelpley, Sarah Baker, John Crayton Griffis, Walter Weaver, William Henry Edwards, Donald Kyle, Arthur Rothrock, Richard Barnes, Charles Molley.

It had been the intention to keep the birthday a secret, but it leaked out and the thirteen year old son of the house received a number of handsome gifts.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles held an enjoyable little dance at their hall Friday night. There were twenty-five couples attending and Whelpley and Miller furnished fine music.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

"Bunkered!"

When a golf player is "BUNKERED" he is "UP AGAINST IT" and "IN BAD," to use the slang of the day.

Local merchants are "BUNKERED" when you fail to patronize them and send your money out of town to mail order houses.

The town itself is "BUNKERED" when it does not hustle for new industries and support a live Board of Trade.

Strong Hope Is Yet Held

the federal government in difficulties with the government of Japan.

The president's telegram of warning to Governor Johnson that Japan might be likely to involve the federal government in delicate litigation has made it clear that Mr. Wilson expects to see the issue ironed out in the courts unless the Californians give up their determination to legislate against the Japanese. Opinion here is that, unless the California legislature desists, the United States must face a trying and prolonged period of discussion of the whole issue before the federal courts. Two courses are open to the Japanese if they choose to resort to legal measures: defeating the attempts of the Californians to legislate them off the land of that state. The California law might be attacked in the courts as contrary to the treaty, or the Japanese might seek to establish their right to citizenship under the United States law.

Even in Washington there are lawmen who maintain that the Webb bill as now understood is in violation of the terms of the treaty between Japan and the United States. The issue lies in the question whether agriculture is property to be regarded as commerce. The treaty provides that Japanese may own land in the United States for "residential and commercial purposes." The dispute is whether agricultural land falls under the latter of the two clauses.

Alien Land Bill Modified.
Sacramento, Cal., May 3.—The alien land bill will be put through both houses today. It is modified with a three years' lease proposition, which was a sop to the large companies which have leased lands to Japanese. This amendment provides that land may be leased to ineligible aliens for a period not to exceed three years. This amendment declares that aliens shall hold leases for only three years, but it eventually allows them to hold land as long as they please, since there is nothing in it against renewal to another Japanese tenant.

Oakland, Cal., May 3.—While assisting Roy Francis to start his hydro-aeroplane for a test over the bay, Herman E. Francis stopped the machine as soon as possible, but too late to save his friend.

Irish-Americans Protest.
New York, May 3.—A committee has been appointed by the United Irish-American societies to wait upon the members of the board of education and the mayor, to induce them to stop the Peace day celebration in the public schools on May 16. # GLUTRIN COMPOUND MARVELOUS MAKER OF STONE-LIKE ROADWAYS

New Material Will Probably Be Used in This City and County Within Short Time—Turns the Ordinary Road to Stone and Prevents It From Wearing Out Easily—Cost Said to Be Very Low—Is Applied Like Oil.

Vast interest is being taken in the new method of road improvement which started in New Jersey and has spread rapidly until many Ohio roads and streets are now being improved with the new preparation known as "glutrin".

Road builders predict that within a very short time the old method still used to a great extent in this county, dumping gravel or crushed stone upon a road and trusting to the wear of vehicles to make a road out of it, will no longer be followed, and that glutrin will be used on the roads after sufficient material has been placed upon them.

Not only has glutrin proven an ideal road maker, but is being used for street building purposes, and the local city officials have been urged to use the marvelous compound on some of the local streets that are to be improved.

Glutrin is a brownish liquid, the appearance of which is suggestive of maple syrup. This compound, mixed with water, is spread over the road from an ordinary sprinkling cart, and in a comparatively few hours it penetrates the roadbed, hardening and binding the earth and gravel together and leaving the surface smooth and solid.

Roads to which glutrin has been applied are no longer sprinkled with oil to keep down the dust for the glutrin accomplishes that purpose in addition to making the road hard and desirable for heavy carting at all seasons of the year. Unlike oil, glutrin does not adhere to the wheels of vehicles, nor does it mar paint or varnished surfaces with which it may come in contact. Neither does it stick to the soles of shoes to be tracked into houses—one of the great objections to oiled roads, particularly by the women.

In a few hours glutrin sinks into the road, chemical changes follow the sand and gravel have been bound almost as tightly as though welded, and the natural color of the roadway has returned.

The first application of the compound costs, in New Jersey, about three cents a square yard, and further treatment about once a year is applied for a third of that amount. While the cost of glutrin is said to be a little more than that of oil, the compound in addition to keeping the dust keeps the road in first class shape for travel and repairs are set down needed.

A sample of the glutinized roadbed was exhibited at a recent council meeting, and resembled the very hardest kind of stone. A long section of road near Dayton, which had been treated with glutrin, withstood the flood in a splendid manner, while other roads were washed out.

Agitation For More Paving

There is some agitation among the property owners to pave North Main street to Temple, Temple to Hinde, and Hinde to Paint street, and the indications look good for the ultimate agreement to pave the streets and forever eliminate the great dust nuisance which has been making the lives of the abutting property owners anything else but pleasant.

The wear on the streets is great, and under the old system of private oiling contracts and improvement of the streets, a great deal of friction has resulted at times, and even now the question of sprinkling has not been determined.

Many of the property owners are very anxious to have the streets paved, and definite action toward that may be expected within a short time

Pennsylvania Road Is Still Staggering Under Flood Damage

Temporary Bridges Will Not Be Completed East of This Point Until Next Week—Huge Pile Driver and Four Men Plunge Fifty Feet Into River—Officials Planning Semi-monthly Pay System.

It will be many months before the local branch of the Pennsylvania railroad will be in good condition once more, notwithstanding that the passenger service has been restored, and that an enormous freight business has been transacted since the flood.

The block system which was under course of establishment through this place has been abandoned temporarily, although that part of the system installed is being utilized, and it may be a year or two before the system is in complete working order owing to the great blow dealt the road by the March flood.

The bridges near Zanesville have not been restored, and it will be another week or ten days before the temporary structures are ready to carry the trains. Meanwhile, the trains are being detoured, and while it requires more time, the road is handling the traffic in fairly good shape.

A day or two ago while one of the huge ninety-five-ton pile drivers with four men on it was out on the temporary structure driving piles at Ellis, near Zanesville, the structure collapsed and the pile driver and men were hurtled into the river 50 feet below.

All four men escaped serious injury, three of them not sustaining a scratch. It was supposed that they were all four either dead or seriously injured, and a relief train with surgeons and nurses was hurriedly dispatched to the scene, meeting the men who had succeeded in swimming ashore.

The pile driver was all but buried in the water and mud of the river, and it will be a herculean task to recover it. The loss of the pile driver and partial collapse of the new bridge or trestle will delay the work two or three days, making it that much longer before through traffic can be resumed.

Officials of the Pennsylvania are planning a semi-monthly pay system to supplement the monthly system heretofore observed, and they are in a quandry as to the best plan for the semi-monthly pay system.

At present with a monthly distribution of pay, from ten to fifteen days are required to get the money to the employees. The first time sheets must all be in as soon after the last day of the month as possible. It requires from two to four days to make up the payrolls, and the first employees to be paid are those about the division headquarters. Then the shop men and after that the pay cars start over the di-

Webb Anti-alien Bill Is Passed By California

Special to Herald.

Sacramento, California, May 3.—By a vote of 36 to 2 the Senate this morning passed the amended Webb Anti-Alien bill.

The business interests are already preparing to invoke the referendum in the hope of delaying operation of law until the election of 1914.

The bill as amended eliminates the objectionable words "ineligible to citizenship" which were so offensive to Japan, but the provisions of the bill as amended are virtually the same as the bill in its original form.

Washington Boy Engaged In Big Business

The following article taken from the daily of Chillicothe, Mo., will be of no small interest in this city.

The M. B. Hamilton Glove Co. is making good in Chillicothe. The factory now employs about seventy people and the management is contemplating the installing of additional equipment in the near future, which will of course, call for additional help. The writer had the pleasure of making the factory a visit Tuesday.

The Chillicothe branch of the Hamilton Glove Co. is the third largest of the company's houses. It is in charge of Paul Blessing, a young man of years, but a hustler. It is largely due to his "sticking qualities" and good business judgment that the plant has succeeded in the manner it has. Nothing but the best and most up-to-date machinery is used and the output of gloves and mittens from the local factory in one day is surprising. The local branch by now supplying a large part of the trade in Texas, Oklahoma, Idaho and other southern states, and practically all of Iowa because of the excellent railroad facilities out of Chillicothe.

Under one of the proposed plans there would be a man at each stopping place of the pay car to take charge of the pay roll and after the amounts had been received for on his roll he would return it to the paymaster's department. This would allow the pay car to take care of the trainmen, firemen and engineers.

Under one of the proposed plans there would be a man at each stopping place of the pay car to take charge of the pay roll and after the amounts had been received for on his roll he would return it to the paymaster's department.

The plans which will be used for the first two or three months will only be experimental.

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, May 1, 1913.

It is doubtful that there has ever been as great a contradiction in baseball as the Cincinnati team has been offering since the opening of the present season. Here is a team that leads the National league in fielding and ranks second among the eight teams in batting, yet its record of victories is so small as to be all but imperceptible. Every department of the team has more than come up to expectations and promises, except the pitching department, and it is here that all the damage to the team's prospects has been done up to the present time. Not one of the twirlers is in condition to go the full distance of nine innings, and the result has been numerous switches in the box in every game the team has played, and a number of defeats by the small margin of one run. Neither the fans nor Manager Tinker have lost faith in the ability of the Reds to finish in a high position. In order to do this, however, it will be necessary for the pitchers to show proper form, a condition that may arise at any time now that warm weather has set in.

For the next few weeks the Reds will be working under rather adverse conditions. The team will be on the road until the latter part of May, playing but one game on the home lot in the meantime, that being the battle of Sunday, May 4, with the Pilates, whom they have met four times this season, with a result of three victories for Clarke's men and one to the game. It is promised that Hans Wagner, who has been out of the Pirate lineup for some time, will try to get back into the game for this day, a fact which will be greatly appreciated by the followers of the game, with whom the veteran, shortstop is a great favorite. The Reds will offer a somewhat changed line-up for this occasion, the Cuban, Almeda, probably covering third, with Marsans in center and Beals Becker in right in place of Fisher.

The line-up of the visitors will be as follows:

Hiddix, cf; Hocutt, ss; Stevenson, cf; weaver, 3b; Borderish, 2b; Niehau, 1b; Smith, lf; Hungling, 1b; Hall or Moore, p.

Practically the same team played two games here last season and the Athletics were victors in both contests.

The first game, however, was one of the prettiest seen on the local diamond during last season. The teams were evenly matched and did not go from start to finish with the final score 2 to 1 in favor of Washington.

In the second contest the line-up of the visitors had been weakened somewhat, while the locals had tightened up a little and that game went to the locals in a score of 1 to 0.

The game, however, was replete with brilliant work both of offense and defense and was really much closer and exciting than the score indicates.

This season the visitors will present some new men who will, it is claimed, add strength to the team.

A cutting contest is practically assured with the odds slightly favoring the locals as the winners in a close fight. The locals on Sunday will present their new pitcher, Fisher, on the mound.

Fisher comes from Greenfield and is a pitcher of experience, knows the fine points of the game and uses his noodle in the pinches as well as his wing.

Fisher, who was secured by Manager Passmore to take the place made vacant by the passing of Chaffin, hurls from the off side and possesses puzzling shoots and benders with speed to burn.

The visitors Sunday promise to make him use his full line of deccys to stop them.

Chaffin will soon be seen here as an opponent with the Columbus Athletic team.

Fisher promises to more than fill the bill as a pitcher. The locals have every confidence in his ability to stop the slugs.

Chaffin will soon be seen here as an opponent with the Columbus Athletic team.

More than 1000 stalls have already been engaged for the running meeting, which opens at Belmont park on May 30, marking the resumption of racing on the metropolitan tracks, after a lapse of some years. The fact that so many horses are promised this early in the year indicates that interest in the resumption of turf activities around New York is extremely keen; and the list of owners who will bring their stables to the track is ample proof of the high class of the sport to be offered, even though the returns in the way of purses and added money will be comparatively small. All of which indicates that the racing game is in for a prosperous and healthier future.

Now comes Al Palzer, the Iowa farmer, with a claim for the heavyweight championship. Palzer seems to have forgotten the fact that Luther McCarthy, who is carrying the title, gave him quite a wallop some time ago. Palzer may be the champion, but before any one will believe him he'll have to get the decision over Gunboat Smith and Jess Willard, both of whom have surrendered to McCarthy—and then put out McCarthy himself. Quite a job for Al.
